White & Company continue the traditions founded in 1871 by providing the quality expected by our clients - backed up by superb packaging materials, highly trained crews, effective management and genuine commitment to customer care and the environment.

Moving people for over 140 years

It was back in 1871 that Mr White started his business in Portsmouth. Our company is still owned by the White family today making it the largest (and possibly the oldest) family-owned removals business in the UK, with over 200 vehicles and 450 staff.

In those days the company occupied itself transferring passengers' baggage from the Atlantic liners to and from London.

Today we are involved in every aspect of the removals industry including: domestic, European, and international removals, household goods and archive storage, corporate shipping, and office relocation. We have 16 branches around the UK and Channel Islands, one in Majorca and an office in Germany.

We are members of the British Association of Removers. Members of FIDI, the international removals federation that requires all members to operate to the globally-recognised FAIM (FIDI Accredited International Mover) standard, independently assessed by consultants Ernst & Young, we are founder members of OMNI (Overseas Moving Network International) a specialist global networking group for the world's premier moving companies, and have achieved internationally recognised standards for our services: BS 8564. Our domestic moving services are carried out in accordance with the BAR Code of Practice.

Although White and Company has a long history and an impressive list of professional accreditations, it remains a practical company. We know that to maintain our leading position we have to strive continually to achieve excellence in everything that we do. That policy has made us one of the world's leading moving companies and that same policy ensures safe removal of your belongings.

Moving home with White & Company

Moving home is one of the most important, complex and stressful undertakings you are ever likely to be faced with.

Whether you're moving within the UK, to Europe or across the globe, you need to get it right.

White and Company has been moving furniture, personal possessions and cars all over the world for around 140 years, so we've earned our place as a recognised leader in the worldwide moving business.

Our client list includes celebrities and sports stars, regional governors and harbour masters, professionals and tradespeople, people starting out on their careers and people in retirement.

All our customers get exactly the same treatment and the traditional values of personal service, professional care, technical expertise and cost effectiveness.

As well as BAR, we are members of FIDI/FAIM and OMNI, globally-recognised networks of quality-assured companies that make certain our service at destination matches that in the UK.

All our staff are fully employed by White & Company, and the majority have been with us for many years. We invest in training for all our team, so that they benefit from our 140 years' experience. And that means you do too.

As well as investing in the people who will turn up on your doorstep to pack and move your valuable possessions, we ensure we continue to invest in the latest equipment and technology to make sure our experience is right up to date.

We continually invest in new specialist vehicles to ensure that we can provide you with the latest and most reliable transport for your belongings. We also make sure we keep in touch with the latest developments in packaging techniques and materials so that your possessions are as safe as possible during your move.

One of the world's largest independent moving organisations. 16 Branches across the UK and Channel Islands. Large wholly owned fleet of over 200 vehicles.

As well as our head office we have 16 branches around the UK - plus one in Mallorca - and 17 storage locations where we can offer short and long term storage for your possessions.

If you're moving overseas, our experience includes detailed knowledge of customs regulations, and we have developed close links with approved removals businesses in all of the main overseas destinations.

Whether yours is a straightforward home to home move or a complex international relocation involving storage and customs regulations, you will have a single point of contact, one person who will organise and coordinate everything that needs to be done, one person at the end of a phone for you.

White and Company is no ordinary removal company. Whatever your removals needs, we can meet them.

And you can be confident that we will get it right.

Domestic removal service

- Nationwide coverage
- Daily service to the Isle of Wight
- Daily service to the Channel Islands
- Regular services to Northern Ireland, Isle of Man and the Scottish Islands
- BSEN quality certification
- Comprehensive insurance
- All services performed in accordance with European standard BS EN 12522
- Professional, knowledgeable management
- Friendly, trained, full time staff

When you choose a removals company, there are many factors to consider.

First and foremost, the company will be handling your most treasured possessions, and you want to be confident that they will arrive safely at your new home.

You want the individuals handling your move: the person who comes to assess what will be needed, the people who come to carry out the move, the people in the office you speak to on the phone, to be professional, to care, and to have excellent technical expertise.

And, of course, you need a price that represents value for money.

White and Company's policy of employing and training all its own staff, and constantly investing in the latest equipment and technology ensures that you will get the service you want. Our membership of the British Association of Removers (BAR) shows that we meet all industry quality standards. And our 140 years of experience means that in many cases we exceed them.

With 16 branches around the UK and a network of industry partners we can move you safely and efficiently.

“White & Co were excellent - provided a first class service in Shetland (despite the appalling weather conditions).”

Moving overseas

- Full container or part load shipping worldwide
- Airfreight
- Car shipping and crating
- Customs clearance
- Comprehensive insurance
- Storage in UK or at destination
- Full financial protection for pre-payments through the overseas group of the British Association of Removers

Moving overseas is an even more complex operation, involving customs documentation and local regulations at your destination.

If you're moving outside Europe, export packing, container loading, shipping, export documentation are also needed.

That's where our experience tells. We are one of the UK's largest international moving companies. We regularly ship household goods all over the world, with special expertise in the main migrant destinations: Australia, Canada, New Zealand, South Africa and the USA.

With storage facilities at each end of the journey, we can time the movement of your possessions to match your own travel plans.

Our knowledge of overseas regulations and local systems enables us to advise on shipping items like vehicles, electrical and other goods subject to local requirements.

We can ship anything from a single package to a complete household safely door to door anywhere in the world, by sea or by air, using our trusted international associates, a network of top quality business partners.

Relocating with your company

- Full move planning
- Dedicated single point of contact
- Specialist assistance on call
- Worldwide service

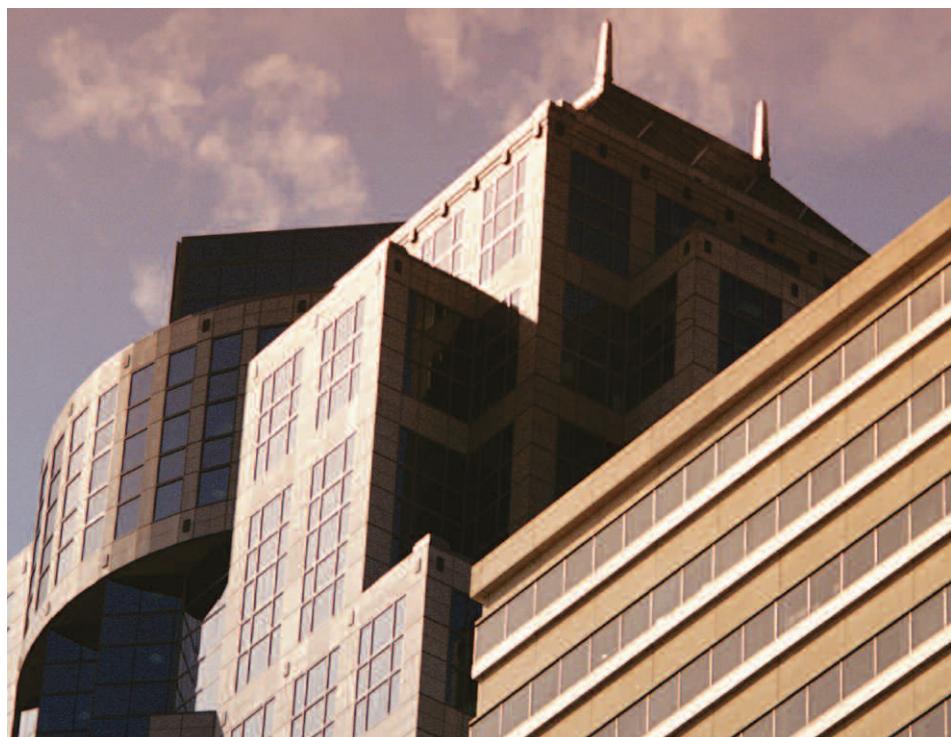

Moving to a new company location is a big deal.

Managing a new job challenge for you, a new home for your family, new schools for the kids, a new lifestyle, is not easy. Even more complex if you're moving overseas.

Our relocation service is designed to make things as straightforward as possible. From day one you will be assigned a move manager, a single point of contact who will assess and understand your needs and handle the whole process.

Our aim will be to allow you to continue to focus on work rather than managing the detailed logistics of the move.

Working closely with you, the move manager will tailor the move to your specific requirements, calling on our network of trusted associates if required for issues like accommodation, visas, currency, banking, schools, and storage.

Live The Dream

"We have used White and Co to move all our people successfully for the last two years."

Storage facilities

- Written inventories
- Easy access
- Exclusive use of containers
- Fabric and upholstery cleaning service available
- All services performed in accordance with European standard BS EN 14873
- 17 freehold locations

At some point in your move you may need to store some or all of your possessions.

Your sale and purchase dates may not synchronise, you may want to rent in your new location before you find the right home to buy.

You may be downsizing.

If you are moving overseas you might have to store your possessions until the shipment is ready to load.

Alternatively, you may have possessions you can't fit into the house, but want to put somewhere safe where you can reach them easily.

We have 17 storage units around the UK. All of them are truly world class facilities. Secure, clean, dry and accredited with the BSEN14873 standards qualification.

All provide secure containerised storage in personal dedicated storage containers or self-storage units for items to which you need regular, easy access.

And, of course, you only pay for the space you use.

We can also provide fabric and upholstery cleaning services if you wish.

Corporate Relocation

Relocating with your company can be complicated and time consuming. Moving overseas adds a whole new set of issues.

It's important that the transition goes smoothly, that you reach your new destination ready to take on the role with as little worry and distraction as possible.

There is so much to think about: the right visa; somewhere for you and your family to live; schools; transferring money; access to cash when you get there; getting your family there; as well as shipping all your goods safely.

White and Company has been helping people relocate for over 140 years. We can provide a complete relocation solution. We take 14 decades of experience and blend it with resources, specialist expertise and dedicated management systems to provide services that cater for the entire relocation process.

Solutions are tailored to individual requirements, recognising that every relocation is unique.

You will be provided with a Move Manager, who will take time to understand your individual needs and become a single point of contact to handle every aspect of your move.

Visas: Every country has different requirements for visas to allow you to work. We work with trusted experts for every destination who can guide you through the maze of regulations and ensure the correct visa is achieved for you and your family members

Currency: Moving money overseas can be expensive. Our associates offer significantly better exchange rates and provide an exceptional foreign exchange service.

Banking: Local banking facilities can be set up in advance so you can have access to funds as soon as you arrive.

Housing and Schools: Your Move Manager will be able to advise on accommodation and schools, and arrange meetings as appropriate.

Flights: Our network of travel specialists will find the right balance of comfort and cost for your outward travel.

“...The entire shipment was exactly as your team had packed it. My wife was full of praise for White & Company of Winchester. There was not a single scratch and not one piece of upholstered furniture had even the tiniest bit of mold. After two years in storage, she was astonished. It proves the value of total wrapping and 'sealing' each piece of furniture. It really works.”

PF, Ivybridge - Helensburgh

“...the driver that delivered goods was a real gentleman, worked hard and very friendly. The entire staff were brilliant and made what could have been a stressful time a real pleasure, thanks.”

DC, Winchester - Devon

“...The 2 removers went beyond the call of duty to get our dining table in by going over a 6ft wall and hauling it over a 1st floor balcony - most impressive. We were very impressed at the bubble wrap protective material applied to the wooden furniture. Great care was taken and was appreciated by us.”
